Dear Ms. Augusto, dear Amina,

Thank you for your request. You need an outplacement partner that works in English, understands the realities of international development professionals, and delivers concrete results within a fixed budget. That is exactly what we do.

CareerHandling

For more than 24 years we have guided people and organisations through outplacement and career transitions. With a unique combination of experienced coaches, registered psychologists, entrepreneurs and the agentic AI of our partner AcmeBrainCorp, we deliver programmes that actually produce results.

Our approach is defined by personal attention, realistic job marketing and a success rate of more than 96% (participants find a new, suitable role within three months).

At CareerHandling you do not choose a standard outplacement agency, but a committed partner that guides people with respect, structure and modern tools.

Why this proposal is built for your situation

You are 30 and for the last 4 years, you worked as Executive assistant/office manager at Bacardi in Amsterdam. You are a non-Dutch-speaking expat. Your job at Bacardi focussed on Event Management: Regional event planning, budgeting, logistics, and content delivery. You also, organized Bacardi events and team-building activities to boost employee morale and teamwork. Because Bacardi moved office from Amsterdam to Rotterdam (a project that you have managed), you now search a new role. You live in Amsterdam and are open to a new and exciting role within an organisation in the Amsterdam region.

That combination requires three things many Dutch outplacement firms handle poorly: full English delivery, real insight into transferable skills into another role, and a realistic view of the Dutch and international labour market for expats.

CareerHandling provides all three.

Specifically we will:

- Map your expertise onto concrete target roles at exciting organisations.
- Produce an updated/optimised English CV, LinkedIn profile and application materials that pass both ATS filters and human readers in international organisations.

- Identify local and hybrid opportunities in the Amsterdam region that require your skill set.
- Use AI-driven matching to surface vacancies weekly that fit your profile and location preference.
- Help you prepare for interviews with organisations.

Our proposal – two clear options within your budget

Your budget is € 3,500 excl. VAT. Both options stay inside that ceiling. We recommend Option 2 because the AI layer shortens the search and improves targeting in a niche that is currently contracting.

Option 1 – Outplacement Standard

A solid, coach-led programme:

- Personal intake and tailored career plan (including transferable-skills analysis)
- Full optimisation of CV, LinkedIn profile and application letters (English)
- Support with applications, networking and labour-market orientation
- Regular coaching sessions (online or hybrid)
- Job-hunting support

Price: €2,995.- (excl. 21 % VAT)

Option 2 – Outplacement Premium with AI support (recommended)

Everything in Option 1, plus:

- AI-driven vacancy matching and labour-market analysis focused on your skill set
- Tailored vacancy lists per week (Amsterdam-region / hybrid)
- Interview preparation and mock sessions
- AI-assisted optimisation of CVs, motivation letters and LinkedIn outreach
- Structured analysis of transferable skills into new career paths
- Practical training in effective AI use for job search
- Two months of aftercare after placement

Price: €3,500.- (excl. 21 % VAT)

Logistics

All sessions are delivered in English. The programme can run fully online or hybrid (online + face-to-face in the Rotterdam or Amsterdam area). We handle scheduling. The trajectory starts as soon as you accept and can be phased if needed.

Practical details

The full amount is invoiced upon acceptance of this proposal.

Travel costs, if any, are charged at €0.50 per kilometre.

Terms

All prices are in euros, exclusive of VAT.

Deliveries are subject to our standard terms and conditions.

Validity

This proposal is valid for 30 days from the date above.

Amina, you need a partner that treats the reality of finding a new role as a fact, not a talking point, and that turns your specific expertise into a marketable profile for the next role. That is the work we propose to do.

We look forward to your response.

Kind regards,
CareerHandling BV
